On Its Radiant Barrier Insulation Product

AUBURNDALE, FL (April 2006) – Fi-Foil Company, America’s leading manufacturer of insulation solutions for masonry walls, metal buildings and radiant barriers, has announced that it is offering a 20-year transferable warranty on one of its most established and popular products.

Fi-Foil’s Silver Shield™ Radiant Barrier saves energy, reduces attic temperatures up to 30 degrees F, improves duct and insulation performance, and is the industry’s highest performing radiant barrier application.

The product is also sold to builders as part of a Radiant Barrier Program – a turn-key marketing program that builders can, in turn, sell as an option to their homebuyers. The builder program includes interactive displays for builder sales offices and design centers, as well as onsite training for the builders’ sales staff.
