

Fi-Foil Continues Uninterrupted Operations, Remains Focused on Customer and Employee Safety

Fi-Foil, a leader in high-performance radiant insulation systems and barrier products, wants customers to know the company is continuing uninterrupted business services while ensuring that operations are conducted within public health and safety guidelines.

We will continue to maintain close contact with key vendor associates, monitoring the raw materials supply chain for potential slowdowns. We are happy to report that Fi-Foil has operated at full production capacity since the early days of the COVID-19 pandemic, with no delays. We expect this situation to continue and will provide key updates as needed.

Fi-Foil takes the responsibility of being an essential business seriously and is dedicated to meeting the needs of all customers. At the same time, the company cares deeply about its employees and customers' health and safety. We are determined to ensure that all needs are met.

As part of Fi-Foil's ongoing commitment to safe business practices, we are following local, state and federal recommendations to reduce the risk of COVID-19 spread. Some of the precautions we continue to take include:

- Mandatory use of masks
- Frequent handwashing
- Sanitizing of high-touch areas (such as door handles, countertops and light switches)
- Use of hand sanitizer
- Encouraging sick team members to stay home and seek medical attention if necessary
- Encouraging potentially exposed team members to seek testing
- Encouraging physical distancing

Fi-Foil remains grateful for the unwavering support from its customers and will always work to exceed their expectations. The company is focused on advancing sustainable, cost-effective and energy-efficient reflective insulation technologies.

Stay safe and healthy!
